Microsoft

GCC cyber security insights

The region's enterprises still have a long way to go when it comes to creating secure environments for their customers, employees and intellectual property

80% Gulf enterprises still use password-only authentication

11% use a two-factor authentication (2FA), to support username-password authentication

7% have reported using fingerprint-scanning

<1% have adopted facial recognition

51% reported a 10%-or-higher proportion of unwanted emails in corporate inboxes

41% admitted to having clicked on links within emails that led to malicious websites

61% of those polled said their organization did not yet have a data classification solution in place

Microsoft Security